“ Agnes was “1” of a kind loving more than most! I have known her since childhood as she was a faithful member of my family church. Much of her personality reminded me so much of my amazing mother! She was not a person that always desired to have the last word or be heard. When she spoke she shared true Godly wisdom. She gave her faithful testimony as long as I can remember about how God healed her miraculously from a diagnosis of cancer. She refused to give Satan any credit for a illness that she never gave into because of her lively faith and ongoing praise and worship. I just loved watching her come down the isle of the church. She walked with a purposeful stride with her 1-2 inch heels and her Sunday’s best hat. She will be missed knowing that older women of her Kind do not come in large numbers this day and time.

Mother Agnes Watson thank You for exhibiting your faithfulness and authentic prize of what a Godly Women should exhibit. R.I.P.

Much Love
