Oh!! Granddaddy how I miss you so much, this will be your time to head to Montgomery Al, and you would stop in Ga, to see me and momma, then head on to Aunt Eddie Mae house where she would have you hot home cooked meal... Talk to Uncle Mark and Uncle Seb and relax the whole 6mo you here, then we all come home to Evergreen and be at Grandma house where Aunt Eddie Mae cooked a spread for us all to eat... And Grandma enjoying a house full of family. You and momma go to the Christmas dance together to see classmates and so more family... Oh! what good times.

“ My deepest sympathy for your loss, as your father's smile will be greatly missed, along with his dancing. He would call me his dancing partner and when I would see him in the store, he would say, there's my girl. I would say yes, and there's my lefty, and we would just laugh and greet with a hug. So, just remember all of the good times and know that his work was done here on earth; as he heard God's call saying, "Well done my faithful servant" and went home with the Lord.
