

Mark A. Brown

December 18, 1960 - July 21, 2023

Mark Anthony Brown born in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Educated in the Franklin Township section of Somerset School system where he graduated. He worked for Jack Dolan Plumbing Supplies and Walmart in NJ. He married Tryphina Williams and to this union was born a daughter, Crystal J. Williams Brown. They later separated. He's the father of Anastasia (now Wilson). He loved music and played the lead bass guitar. He was a member of Willy Lockhart and the New Brunswick Alstares Gospel Quartet, and later the Gospel Alstares led by Rev Ben Cole. He loved to work on anything he could take apart, even toys as a child. He learned to work on electronic equipment and helped anyone in need of his service. Mark moved to Georgia in 2020. There he met and married Leonaus (Virginia) White. They settled in Covington, GA. He joined a gospel quartet called Daniel Petty & TABOC, he also played guitar for the New Hope Baptist Church and another congregation in GA. He assisted a residential program with repairs and was a live-in caregiver for a man with disabilities until he himself became ill and moved back to

NJ.

Most of all he loved God and gave his life to him, grateful for his extended days. He could be heard telling friends on the phone "get GOD'S WORD RIGHT" loud and clear.

Mark now joins his mother, Angelina Brown, paternal grandparents, and maternal grandparents. Left to cherish his memory, his wife Leonaus V. Brown of GA; daughters, Crystal

Williams-Brown (NC), Anastacia Willson (NJ)(David); Father, Clark W. Brown (NJ);

siblings Elettra Brown-Alan (NJ), Phillip Brown (PA) (Rhonda), D. Demaris Brown-Ross

(Cornell), Cheri Dotty, and Allison Dotty; grandchildren Andres, Akira, and Andrew Ratliff,

David, Dashel, Daniel and Davana Wilson; and aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends
