

Robert Lazarus Jackson

June 30, 1948 - January 6, 2019

Robert Lazarus Jackson, 70, departed this life on Sunday, January 6, 2019. Born in Trenton, NJ to the late Pinckney and Orano Jackson, he graduated from Trenton High School and attended Boston University majoring in Theater Arts. After moving to California in pursuit of an acting career, he reached the apex of his goal by writing and appearing in numerous television shows including the popular nineties sitcom “Family Matters”.

One of Robert’s favorite pass times was caring for neighborhood cats, including his own, “Lucky and Chance”. For that reason, Robert was affectionally called, “Cat Man”. Those who knew him were entertained by his outgoing personality and his instantaneous wit and humor. Robert will long be remembered by his family and friends who believe he is now resting in the arms of the Lord.

Predeceased by his brothers, William and James Jackson, leaves to cherish his memory sisters, Dr. Jeanette Purdy, Elvia Hawkins, Barbara Francis (Dr. Joseph), Ida Glover and Catherine Sills (Dr. Tilson), other relatives and close friends.

Private services were held under the direction of Anderson Funeral Service.

Tribute Wall

“ Robert Lazarus Jackson

September 22, 2022 at 02:41 PM