No one and nothing can compare to the friendship we had. I only known you for 6 years but it seems much longer. We met at the "camp" which is really Homefront. Cyn'turi was a beautiful newborn. We were neighbors and every night Cyn'turi would start crying and finally one night I knocked on your door and said give me that baby. Why is she crying? What are you doing to her? And that was the beginning of our friendship. Next we both moved into Carteret Arms. I messed up and started using again. You were upset with me but you never cussed me out or gave up on me. No matter what you always made time to talk to me. You could identify with my hurt and pain. And although it may have seemed like I wasn't paying attention I really did. I love and appreciated your support. I finally got clean in 2018 and I saw how excited, happy, and even more supportive, which bought us even closer. That's when I noticed that you weren't feeling good and started getting sick. Any type and time you needed me I was there for you. No matter what because that's what friends are for. I now know that you knew you were sicker then what you let on because you were worried about how I was going to handle it. You were more worried about me relapsing that's why you waited until the you were close to the end. I'm going to be alright because you instilled your support, encouragement and love into me which I will remember and continue using daily. Yes I'm hurt that you won't be here to share my successes in the flesh but you're here in spirit. I love friend always. Long Live Pimp
